Dedication to Mr. Leo A. Fraser

We feel that it is important to recognize a man who has given an endless number of hours to the production of the Manchester High School Anchor. With help and continuous encouragement, he made this yearbook possible. For these reasons, we dedicate the 1979 edition to Mr. Leo Fraser.

For many years, Mr. Fraser has served as the loyal advisor to the yearbook staff. Without his help, guidance, and continuous supply of Dunkin' Donuts, (not to mention the honeydipped, glazed, and chocolate frosted), The Anchor Staff may not have succeeded in putting together such a fine collection of memories. Through his undying enthusiasm, Leo Fraser has instilled in the student body the motivation and interest necessary to make the Anchor, a Manchester High tradition.

We hope that the students and faculty realize that this dedication is in no way sufficient to thank Mr. Fraser for all he has done, but it is the best and most appropriate token that we can give.

Thanks, Mr. Fraser, for all your help and spirit!

TENTH REUNION

June 1, 1989

Here we are, all together once again, after ten years in the wild world outside of Manchester. For some of us the years have brought many surprises, while for others it has been pretty much the same. Here is where we find our fellow classmates ten years later, at our first reunion . . .

Paul Nasser is now famous for the first field painting factory.

Martha Shaw finally admitted that she got caught in the dryer.

Jim St. Clair is now a bouncer at Miss Jean's Romper Room.

Gail Hannah is one tough cookie.

Robin Johnson is now fashion editor for Rogue — I mean Vogue — magazine.

Mike Dickman has just won the Mr. America Contest in the twelve and under category.

Julie Riemersma is now a flag pole at Schaeffer Stadium.

Donna Greenleaf blew away.

Dereck Coons is now modeling panty hose.

Brendan Battles recently set the new world record for the longest face skid.

Deedee O'Leary just published her own version of the English Dictionary.

Lisa Karas finally told her mother she smokes.

William Angelo Fusco is now married to Mama Celeste — they have five anchovies, two pepperonis, and a mushroom on the way.

Randy O'Brien is now a predominant gynecologist.

Kathy Mackin is now the mother of 682 flaming arrows.

Jim Carty mysteriously blew up in his car — the only remains were a burnt match and an empty Miller's.

Geof Lear is still after the seventh graders.

Mary Beth Ferriera now leads disco lessons at L'il Earl's.

Bruce Ocko was recently elected Mayor of Gotham City.

Karen Lloyd now owns White Gables.

Maria Maio finally said an obnoxious word.

Brad Smith finally got something out of Manchester High besides the High.

Derrick McKinley was last seen selling risque magazines in Times Square.

Lisa Kadra is still rolling around in the back of the Camino.

Marigrace Rooney recently drowned in a pool of Tab.

Laura Dennis is on trial for the murder of Biff Colella.

Felicia Clarke is now a Pharmacist at Homan's.

Kurt Keville is now a D.J. on WBCN.

Charlie Sommerville now sings Bain De Soleil For The San Tropeil Tan.

Elizabeth Allen recently O.D.ed on bananas.

Kim Howard still thinks love is wonderful.

Catie Mains is now comotose due to an overabundance of mellow activities.

Nancy Ina now stars in the Brady Bunch.

Barbara Creed finally bought the last Dean's sweater.

Siobhan Daley's closet now exceeds 2.5 miles.

Dean Nahatis is now a pilot for the intergalactical space shuttle.

David Bell and Rick Johnson are now picking coffee beans in Jamaica.

T.D. Day now runs a used car lot.

Schuylar Glidden isn't on a diet but he still keeps losing "pounds".

Dennis Conlon really is part of our class.

Carolyn Abbott is a poet in residence for Mad magazine.

Jonathan Allen discovered girls.

Ted St. Onge is now a lawyer defending reckless drivers.

Bill Gates is now a shower repairman.

Scott Richardson now owns Standley's Garage.

Bill Tibbetts is now a juvenile court judge.

Bob Powers builds himself a reputation.

Beth Davey has decided to make Halloween a year round holiday.

Biff Colella is Dave Ryan's student teacher.
Tom Schanley is now, after a long wait, hosting Saturday Night.
Mike Burke finally weighs more than 75 pounds.
Debbie Levine bought some straight hair.
Chet and Peter Bachry, or Peter and Chet, have finally admitted they're clones.
Lisa Day has taken Rona Barrett's place.
Chris Brown has just come in with his biography for Mr. Averill.
John Elder joined the Hell's Angels — Moped Version.
Chris Rodier is still explaining to Kim.
Pam Stevens is still wearing rubber pants.
Ken Burgess "Young Guy" finally has his own shirt with a name.
Alan Forsley now owns the Wayward Duck.
Debbie Doane manages a stable full of studs.
Chip Fritz now has the world's largest train set.
The Class of '79 has finally met Julie Harrington's level of approval.
David Forsley's voice just changed.
Kim Gove has just pulled up in Cynthia Janisch's car. Cynthia is fast behind her.
Terry Hyland now models for Popular Mechanics.
Joanne Jenner runs a health food store in Essex.
Kevin Hosman was spot welded to a Buick.
Arthur Klebart just pulled in on a full sized Suzuki — finally!
Caroline Hardwick still lives on Old Essex Rd.
Gayle Lancee is head of the Sundae Dept. at Friendlies'.
Lisa Herrick is now married to E. J. Sobeleski. They've opened the first combination beauty parlor-coffee shop.
Nancy Marshall took off and never wants to see any of us again.
Laurel Watson and Mike Vasapoli are having a major discussion this evening — so far they've said hello.
Leigh McMahon dyed her hair blonde.
Joy Cummings is off at Wimbledon playing against Chris Evert.
Serita Moore is here — we think.
Debbie Radack was elected Nurse of The Year by the United Nursing Home Federation of America.
Carole O'Neil's hair is back to the same shade it used to be.
Sally Triebs traded her beanie in for a red one, Nancy Nieberle followed her-example and traded hers in for green.
Beth Cullinane has taken Laurie Cabot's place as the Salem Witch.
Wendy Cobb is now a famous clothes designer.
Mary Ceurvels is in Florida, baking on a beach.
Doreen Burgess is now a stock car driver in New Hampshire.
Kristine Huber is keeping in the family tradition and has ten kids with names beginning with K.
Martha Mohr recently made front page of the N.Y. Times as the first lawyer to make Broadway.
Sam Triebs is still trying to figure out how to make a million.
Katie Fraser is riding around on her moped.
Sara Slater is hiking through the Andes trying to find the meaning of life.
Michelle Nataloni just opened up her own nursery school.
Leslie Thorndike has taken over where Dear Abby left off.
Charlie and Lisa Brown have bought the town and are hosting this reunion.

Senior Chorus

Over the past two years, The Senior High Chorus has grown from being virtually nonexistent to a well-known and popular musical group at Manchester High. This great improvement is largely due to the efforts and dedication of Advisor Mary Quinton, who has invoked the spirit and enthusiasm which bring this group alive. The Chorus has presented many programs at Christmas and throughout the year, providing enjoyable entertainment to the community and students of Manchester High.

Freshman Football 78'

The Freshman Football Team had an outstanding season. They were undefeated. This was due in great part to the defensive unit. The first team defense was unscored upon for the entire season. Coach Bilante and Coach Ananian deserve much credit. We look forward to seeing this team in the future.

Boys' Cross Country 78'

In an increasingly strong Cape Ann League the Cross Country Teams kept their winning records. The girls' squad was 6-4 and the boys' squad 7-6. The year was one of many individual triumphs and tragedies. A meet often saw several individual records set, as well as some heart-breaking injuries incurred. Despite individual setbacks due to injuries, the team spirit remained strong. In a great team effort the boys' squad beat a typically strong Lynnfield team 26-29 for the first time ever. Many girls came close to breaking the 20 minute barrier as the team fielded its strongest squad ever!

Out of a twelve game schedule, the J.V.s continued their winning tradition with an 7-2-3 record.

The squad showed excellent comraderie and were constantly encouraging each other to greater efforts.

Win, lose, or draw, they were always in good spirits.

There is excellent balance between offense and defense, which was accomplished by an interchange of positions.

The team was fortunate to have a dedicated goalie in Beth Dwyer, and her efforts saved many a game.

Forward line players who consistently scored were Amy Neal, Patrice Fusco, Deedee Mitchell and Leslie Landry.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

In Memoriam to Jennifer Winn

There are no words to properly express the sense of loss that everyone who knew her feels. Her eagerness to share her laughter with the world, her capacity to love all of God's creatures, and her facility for making gloomy days bright are irreplaceable. We who were blessed with her gentle presence, however brief, will always treasure her memory.
